Presenting an overview of BSB963 “Protect-Streams-4-Sea” Project

George Zaimes, the Project Coordinator of the “Protect-Streams-4-Sea” project presented an overview to the master students of the “Analysis and Management of Anthropogenic and Natural Disasters” Program of the Greek Fire Academy and the International Hellenic University (<http://mandisastermsc.teiimt.gr/>) on May 7th, 2021 that was held in person and online.

The oral presentation provided a brief overview of the “Protecting streams for a clean Black Sea by reducing sediment and litter pollution with joint innovative monitoring and control tools and nature-based practices” project.

Approximately 40 students (in person and online) participated in the seminar that showed great interest in the project since they got many ideas to develop in a future thesis but also showed interest to participate in the project as researchers.

“This presentation has been produced with the financial assistance of the European Union. The contents of this publication are the sole responsibility of the Project Coordinator George N. Zaimes and can in no way be taken to reflect the views of the European Union.”
