Second Place for the photo “Clean Up”

The photo submitted by the BSB963 “Protect-Streams-4-Sea” project to the Black Sea Basin Contest took SECOND PLACE. The photo was titled “Clean Up” and showcased an awareness event that was organized by the Young Forester Union NGO from Armenia. During this event the participants collected litter from the Debed River and its adjacent riparian areas. The purpose was to illustrate that people do not understand that by not doing the simple task of collecting your garbage after a visit can lead to serious pollution issues. It will be essential for the sustainable management of rivers and riparian areas for people to change their behavior and not leave their garbage behind!

Finally, we would like to THANK the close to 500 people that voted for our photo. Hope you continue following our project.

“This awareness event was conducted with the financial assistance of the European Union. The contents of this event and photo are the sole responsibility of Youn Forester Union NGO and can in no way be taken to reflect the views of the European Union.”
